Worship With Us this Sunday, January 4

Worship with us at 10am this Sunday! Join us here at PUCC or on YouTube Live (@parkwayuccstl)... or participate any time later on YouTube.

We are still in the Twelve Days of Christmas and rapidly approaching Epiphany – the day the Wise Ones or Three Kings arrive.
As we imagine ourselves following the star, we will hear the powerful passage from Isaiah 60:1-6 that reminds us of the radiance and impact of the Holy's light.

Our gospel lesson is the journey of the magi in Matthew 2:1-12. As the birth of Jesus had international reach right from the start, what sorts of stir, sway and inspiration does it have on us today? How will this final piece of the nativity story move and motivate us into faithful living in 2026?

We will celebrate the sacrament of communion at our open table. All are invited to receive this simple sacred meal. If you are with us remotely, please consider having some bread, crackers, wine, grape juice handy.

Worship bulletin here! And if you'd like to Take the Story Home from Sunday School, click here!

Songs include: Christ Be Our Light; We Three Kings of Orient Are; Spirit of the Living God; This Little Light of Mine; Let Us Talents and Tongues Employ.
Amy and kids are on vacation this weekend. As we wish her rest and refreshment, we will welcome Barry back to the organ and piano benches.

Prayer Partner Before and After Worship this Sunday
PUCCer Lynn Mark is available this Sunday in the front left corner of the sanctuary before and after worship this Sunday to pray confidentially with individuals. She is a trained prayer chaplain. She will call on the presence of God and help create a safe spiritual space. Lynn will listen to you as you tell her a bit about your prayer request. She will offer an affirmative prayer out loud, reminding you of your inner strengths rather than ask God for a specific outcome. She will pray that you are guided by God's infinite love, presence and support... and that any joy or gratitude will be multiplied and any fear or doubt will be transformed into peace and confidence.

First Sunday Choir is on break in January. Please plan to join us on the first Sundays of the rest of 2026. We gather in the sanctuary at 9am to learn a song to share in worship that day. Questions? Please reach out to amy@parkwayucc.org

It's Give-A-Meal Sunday. Please bring gifts of non-perishable food items and/or personal care items for our neighbors in the city and county who need some help. Not sure what to purchase?

SPEAKER SERIES

Speaker Series Occasional opportunities after worship at 11:15am
"Bletchley Park; the Home of WWII's Codebreakers," by Parks Smith. Sunday, January 18, 2026 | 11:15am | Heritage Room

Bletchley Park, in England, was the top-secret home of the World War II "Codebreakers." a term for the over 9,000 men and women who intercepted and cracked German war messages. Our speakers, Parks Smith, is a retired St. Louisan historian, who often speaks at the St. Louis History Museum.

Mr. Smith will explore Bletchley Park's history from 1939 to 1946, sharing stories of those who worked there and detailing how German messages were captured and decoded during the Battle of the Atlantic. WITNESSING
WHITENESS
THE JOURNEY INTO RACIAL AWARENESS AND ANTIRACIST ACTION

Witnessing Whiteness PUCC Study Group begins in January on Zoom

We're forming a Witnessing Whiteness learning circle using Shelly Tochluk's book Witnessing Whiteness: The Journey into Racial Awareness and Antiracist Action as our framework. This approach was created here in St Louis through the YWCA and become timelier and more necessary after Michael Brown was killed over ten years ago.

It's a supportive, no-shame space where white-identifying people can explore identity, grow in self-awareness, and practice showing up with more courage, compassion, and clarity in our diverse and hurting world. White people need to learn what black, indigenous and people of color already know about their history and the systems that effect then every day in America.

No expertise is needed - just curiosity and a willingness to reflect in community. This will take place on Zoom - Mondays 6:30-8:30pm - so it doesn't matter where you live or if you travel.

There are examples of racist, xenophobic and deeply rooted prejudice in the news every day. Unfortunately, some of the most powerful people in our land are attempting to rewrite our nation's racial history and are continuing to create and sustain systems of bias. We cannot allow this to happen. This is not what love does. [Please see an example of this in a rebuttal to JD Vance after he encouraged an audience to ignore conversations about race here.]

We have the right and duty to do what we can to understand the roots of this behavior and to be very intentional about being as antiracist as we can be. Our faith calls us to rise to this opportunity and responsibility. This group will help you find critical insights and guide you into being a more aware and justice minded/hearted person.

If you're looking for a space to deepen your understanding, build stronger relationships, and align your actions with your values, we'd love to have you.

This experience is free. We just ask that you purchase the book – let me know if you need help with that. More guidance will be provided by our three trained volunteer facilitators that have been assigned to shepherd our PUCC group.

Zoom sessions: Jan 26; Feb 2, 9, 23; Mar 2, 9, 23, 30; Apr 6, 13, 20, 27; May 4, 11.

This is a big commitment that I believe is worth every moment in our efforts toward the common good.

We invite you to engage in this unique opportunity that supports our core values of limitless love, courageous action and spirited inquiry. The purpose of this group is to gain thought-provoking information and engage in meaningful conversations surrounding how White people can, and should, play an important role in the fight for racial justice.

I have participated in a Witnessing Whiteness Group in the past and will not be a part of this one. Please reach out to me with any questions or to sign up -- kevin@parkwayucc.org

We have our minimum of a dozen people committed and have room for more to sign on.

Thank you for giving this serious consideration for the new year.

Rooted in Faith and Justice: Christian Calls to Conscience & Cries for Peace in Palestine
Thursdays, starting February 5 | 6pm | Zoom

In the December, the Church Council adopted a motion to the affirmation of certain principles from the General Synod 35 Resolution "Declaration for an End to Genocide in Palestine." We affirm that all are made in God's image and are deserving of life free from oppression, persecution, and violence. We reject any theology or ideology including Christian Zionism, Supercessionism, antisemitism, anti-Arab, anti-Palestinian, or anti-Islam bias that would privilege or exclude any one nation, race, culture or religion within God's universal economy of grace.

Parkway United Church of Christ is encouraged to receive this Resolution as a prophetic call and commit to: Stand in solidarity with oppressed people, domestic and abroad, and to denounce any atrocities whether that be through the context of public witness, legislative advocacy, legal action, or non-violent direct action; and denounce hate and violence in all its forms including that rooted in Islamophobia, anti-Palestinian and anti-Arab bias, and antisemitism, as contrary to the teachings of Jesus and the love of God for all humanity.

In an effort to live into this, we'll be offering a five-week reading club of Rooted in Faith and Justice over Zoom. The book offers a powerful and enlightening perspective through the eyes of Palestinian Christian leaders and thinkers, helping us to understand the complexities and injustices of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. Each week, we'll cover a different section, starting with section 1. Click here to get a copy. For more info, contact Gabriel Requadt gabriel@parkwayucc.org

Something to Ponder

Take Only What You Need
Cameron Trimble, UCC pastor

As the year draws to a close, many of us stand at an invisible doorway. Behind us is a year full of effort, loss, learning, exhaustion, and change. Ahead of us is something wide and largely unnamed. The instinct, especially in uncertain times, is to pack everything. Every lesson. Every disappointment. Every unresolved fear. We tell ourselves that carrying more will make us safer.

It rarely does.

There is wisdom in knowing what not to take with us. Futures are not built by accumulation alone. They are shaped by discernment. What we carry forward determines how freely we can move, how open we remain to what is still possible.

But there is another truth we rarely name: some things persist simply because we fear acknowledging their season has ended.

We keep carrying expectations that no longer fit. Narratives about ourselves that once helped us survive but now quietly limit us. Griefs that deserve tenderness but not perpetual rehearsal. Habits of urgency that mistake exhaustion for faithfulness.

None of these are failures. Most of them were necessary once. But necessity has a season. Wisdom knows when that season has passed. The threshold into a new year does not require us to become lighter by denying what has mattered. It asks us to become more intentional. To look honestly at what we are holding and ask whether it still serves life. To notice the difference between what we need and what we have simply grown used to carrying.

What do you truly need to take with you?

Perhaps you need the clarity earned through difficulty. Perhaps you need a renewed sense of belonging. Perhaps you need the courage to say no more often, or the patience to move more slowly. Perhaps you need grief, but not self-blame. Hope, but not illusion. Commitment, but not control.

The future does not ask us to arrive empty-handed. It asks us to arrive unburdened.

There is a wide field ahead. It does not demand proof of worth or performance. It responds to presence. To attention. To the quiet integrity of someone who has chosen to carry only what helps them remain alive, responsive, and real.

As you stand at this threshold, you are not being evaluated. You are being invited.

Take what you need.

Release the rest.

And trust that the ground ahead can meet you when you do.

Setting One Thing Down
Before the year ends, choose one thing you will consciously release.
It could be...
A belief about yourself.
An expectation that never came to fruition.
A pattern of self-judgment.
A demand you have been placing on your own life.
Name it.
Acknowledge what it gave you. Then imagine setting it down—not discarding it, but placing it gently outside the doorway of the year ahead.
You can return to it if you need to. But for now, let yourself walk forward unencumbered.
This is not loss.
It is preparation.
